

WOMEN AND THE EFFECTS OF FEMALE BULLYING

Dr. Linda Johnston invites women to complete an online survey for continued progress of the research project entitled "The Long-term Effects of Female Bullying on Adult Women and their Resolution of Conflicts." The project aims to study the long term effects of childhood bullying experiences on adult women and to ascertain the relationship between the bullying experience and the adult woman's resolution of conflicts.

Possible benefits from this research include:

- a potentially better understanding of the bullying experience;
- an opportunity for victims of bullying to tell their story to the researcher;
- the chance to anonymously help others who might have or have had similar experiences.

After completing the on-line portion of the survey, participants will have the opportunity to indicate their willingness to be interviewed about bullying experiences at a later time. The results of the on-line survey participation will be anonymous. To participate in the survey please visit <https://www.surveymonkey.com/s/KVFNXWM>.

For additional questions, contact Dr. Johnston at 678-797-2000 or by email at ljohnst9@kennesaw.edu.

SEAF Conference 2012

The Southeast Association of Facilitators (SEAF) announces its annual conference, Getting Results through Group Engagement, to be held October 26, 2012. The conference is open to the KSU campus community and the general public. A full day of Professional Development workshops featuring international leaders in group facilitation is scheduled. Dr. Carolyn J. Lukensmeyer of AmericaSpeaks will serve as Plenary Speaker.

Carolyn Lukensmeyer

CAROLYN LUKENSMEYER is the Executive Director of the National Institute for Civil Discourse. Dr. Lukensmeyer previously served as Founder and President of AmericaSpeaks, an award-winning nonprofit organization based in Washington, D.C. AmericaSpeaks promotes nonpartisan initiatives to engage citizens and leaders through the development of innovative public policy tools and strategies. Dr. Lukensmeyer also formerly served as Consultant to the White House Chief of Staff from 1993-94 and on the National Performance Review where she steered internal management and oversaw government-wide reforms. She was the Chief of Staff to Ohio Governor, Richard F. Celeste, from 1986-91, and was the first woman to serve in this capacity. Dr. Lukensmeyer earned her Ph.D. in Organizational Behavior from Case Western Reserve University and has completed postgraduate training at the Gestalt Institute of Cleveland.

THE SIEGEL INSTITUTE WELCOMES INTERN, MICHAEL CARTER

Michael Carter

Meet new Siegel Institute intern Michael Carter. He is Atlanta-born and a Cobb county native currently attending Kennesaw State University with a focus in marketing and professional sales. Michael's interests outside of school are focused on economic and environmental development around Kennesaw campus and the surrounding area. As an avid recycler and sustainability advocate, Michael is a member of Progressive Earth Alliance of Kennesaw (PEAK) and the Model African Union. Following his time at KSU, Michael plans to work for a company that fosters sustainable water resource management or alternative energy. Michael can be reached at mcarte40@students.kennesaw.edu.

LINDSAY SARIPKIN AND THE MA'ASE OLAM PROGRAM

Former Siegel Institute intern, Lindsay Saripkin, is now working in Israel as part of Ma'ase Olam, a 10-month service learning program for North American and Israeli young adults. Ma'ase ("good deed" in Hebrew) was established in 2004 to promote the value of volunteering, to spearhead volunteering frameworks for young people in Israel, and to promote a more inclusive and equitable Israel. Located in over fifty Arab and Jewish communities, Ma'ase utilizes over 700 volunteers from Israel and other countries and has reached over 10,000 children and youth in marginalized and disadvantaged communities in the periphery of the country. Lindsay works for the Ma'ase program as an Israel Service Fellow (ISF). "Being a part of this pioneering project uses our experiences to help mold this program for the future through brainstorming and combining our skills and knowledge," Lindsay says. The ISF program works with diverse populations not only in classrooms, but also creates programs within informal educational settings as well. Visit Lindsay's blog on her experience at <https://wanderingjewinIsrael.wordpress.com/>.

For more information about Ma'ase Olam please visit http://olam.maase.org.il/index.php?option=com_content&view=frontpage&Itemid=2.

Ma'ase Olam Israel Service Fellows.
Lindsay Saripkin 3rd from right.

Danzel Grant Researches Ethics and Sports on behalf of the Siegel Institute

During the Summer 2012 semester, Danzel Grant provided research for the Siegel Institute on codes of ethics in sports and the workplace in general. Danzel researched ethics practices among various major sports teams as well as the Olympics (badminton, track and field, basketball, archery) to see how players are disciplined when they disobey their collective bargaining agreement (a document athletes are required to sign at the start of their careers) which binds them to their team and details what is allowed and not allowed in their public lives.

Danzel Grant

A track and basketball athlete at his high school, Danzel came to work on the Siegel Institute's Sports and Ethics project through CobbWorks, a nonprofit organization that promotes employment, economic development, and education in the Cobb County community. Danzel will transfer from Georgia Perimeter college and start as a freshman at KSU in the spring 2013 semester. A self-taught musician, he plays bass guitar and plans to declare a music major.

"LUNCH & A MOVIE" and "LUNCH & A BOOK" Discussion Series

Siegel Institute Conference Room

3391 Town Point Drive, Suite 2400, Kennesaw, GA 30144

Noon—2:00 p.m.

Lunch provided. Complimentary books and movies provided to each participant.

10/23/12 — Lunch and a BOOK

Animal, Vegetable, Miracle: A Year of Food Life by Barbara Kingsolver - Kingsolver tells of her family's journey away from the industrial food pipeline toward putting the kitchen back at the center of family life and farming at the center of the American diet.

11/7/12 — Lunch and a BOOK

Lost Mountain by Erik Reece - Reece makes it clear that strip mining is a mainstream crisis that encompasses every issue from corporate hubris and government neglect, to class conflict and poisoned groundwater, to species extinction and landscape destruction.

11/29/12 — Lunch and a MOVIE

"Smilla's Sense of Snow" - Based on Peter Hoeg's bestseller. In Copenhagen where a small boy is found dead after falling off a roof, Smilla Jaspersen, a close friend, suspects murder. As she begins to investigate, she is pulled into a conspiracy that could mean her death.

WATCH FOR ADDITIONAL DATES TO COME IN 2013

Graduate Student Association

Reminds Graduate Students of Available Resources

All KSU graduate students should know that KSU's Graduate Student Association (GSA) provides monetary support to graduate students in the form of travel reimbursements when presenting at professional development conferences and conventions related to their program of study. Up to $750 to support 25 students per academic year is available. Students who would like to apply are required to make a five-minute speech to the GSA officers board and will receive an answer on the spot.

This year, the GSA will be focusing on feeding the hungry through Feed the Future and MUST ministries. Also stay tuned for upcoming details on the GSA's plans for a meet and greet with the Atlanta Hawks.

For contact information, officers, the policy and procedures manual, and to access travel reimbursement documents, please visit <https://clubs.kennesaw.edu/gsa/>. The GSA office on campus is located in the Carmichael Student Center (Building 5), Room 338.

KENNESAW

FUND

The Siegel Institute Ethics Scholarship was established to help support a student interested in performing research in leadership or ethics at the Siegel Institute for Leadership, Ethics & Character at Kennesaw State University. Please be sure to designate the Siegel Institute as the recipient of your donation; your gift will help a deserving graduate student. Students can apply now for the scholarship using the online application at <http://www.kennesaw.edu/scholarships>.

Kennesaw State University • Office of Development
1000 Chastain Road, MD 9102
Kennesaw, GA 30144-5591
Telephone: (770) 423-6027 • Fax (770) 432-6532
www.kennesaw.edu/giving

Siegel Institute Ethics Scholarship

$5000 $2500 $1000 $500 $250 $100 _____

_____ My gift is unrestricted to be used where the need is greatest.

My gift is reserved for the Siegel Institute Scholarship.

Preferred Payment Options:

Check [Make check payable to: Kennesaw State University Foundation]

Credit Card: Visa - MasterCard - American Express - Discover

Account No.: _____

Expiration Date: _____

Signature: _____

Name: _____

Business Name: _____

Home Address: _____

Home Phone: _____

Work Phone: _____

Email: _____

I prefer to be listed for recognition as follows: _____

THE VOICE OF ETHICAL LEADERSHIP

October 5, 2012

The Newsletter of the Siegel Institute for Leadership, Ethics & Character

Edited by Stephanie Sidney, MAPW

PHENOMENAL WOMEN'S PRE-CONFERENCE WORKSHOP SERIES
LEADING UP TO THE MARCH 22, 2013 PHENOMENAL WOMEN'S CONFERENCE.

SAVE THE DATE!
13th Annual Phenomenal
Women's Conference
March 22, 2013!

Create, Innovate and Collaborate:
New Paths in Women's Leadership

Kennesaw State Univ. Center
3333 Busbee Drive, NW
Kennesaw, Georgia 30144

These workshops, developed for women who are interested in enhancing their leadership potential, have been scheduled throughout the 2012-2013 academic year and are held 5:30 pm - 8:30 pm, 3391 Town Point Drive, Room TP 1600, Kennesaw, GA 30144.

At the October 30th workshop, Jacqueline Oduselu, Professional Counselor and Mediator, will share strategies on how to become more assertive in both the personal and professional arena. She will also discuss the appropriate use of assertiveness in both leaders and those aspiring to be leaders.

Registration (which includes a box dinner and workshop materials) is $25.00 per workshop, per person.

Please visit the website of the Siegel Institute to complete and submit a registration form.

- 10/30/12 – How to Effectively Use Assertiveness in Your Life
- 1/24/13 – How to Strategically Plan for Your Future
- 2/18/13 – How to Become More Confident in Your Personal and Professional Life
- 3/11/13 – Strategies for Managing Stress in the Workplace

Jacqueline Oduselu

THE SIEGEL INSTITUTE FACILITATES ATLANTA PUBLIC SCHOOLS ETHICS ADVOCATE TRAINING

*Dr. Linda Johnston administers
Ethics Advocate Workshop at APS'
Instructional Services Center in Atlanta*

The Siegel Institute is pleased to serve Atlanta Public Schools by administering a workshop for over 200 Ethics Advocates chosen by their respective schools throughout the APS system. This workshop provides professional development to APS employees to promote an ethical culture within every school of the APS district. The content of the ethics workshop engages participants in the discussion of case studies and provides resources and lesson plans for integrating ethics into the classroom on a daily basis. Each Ethics Advocate, representing his or her school by attending the Siegel Institute ethics training workshop, works toward creating a culture of ethics for the APS district; learns techniques for instructing colleagues on ethics; conducts in-service training twice a year for colleagues; and makes recommendations to their school, office or district for improving ethics standards on behalf of the interests of students, employees, and stakeholders at their school.

"We have had the opportunity to work with many dedicated teachers from Atlanta Public Schools."

—Dr. Linda M. Johnston

The Siegel Institute for Leadership, Ethics & Character is now on Facebook!

Please LIKE US at <http://www.facebook.com/pages/Siegel-Institute-for-Leadership-Ethics-and-Character/406433209405964>

Also connect with the Siegel Institute on TWITTER at <https://twitter.com/SiegelKSU>