

THE GRADUATE CERTIFICATE IN LEADERSHIP & ETHICS

The Institute's Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Ethics is a 15-hour graduate study program - the ONLY one of its kind in the Southeastern United States - designed to prepare students for ethical leadership and how to apply this learning to professional encounters. Enrich your learning experience through the Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Ethics, increasing your capacity to:

- 1) develop a team approach to problem solving;
- 2) create and sustain an ethical culture;
- 3) provide human resource development opportunities in a global context;
- 4) demonstrate leadership, decision-making, and management skills;
- 5) improve the quality of ethical leadership.

The Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Ethics program provides three options for enrollment.

OPTION #1A: THE PARTNER CERTIFICATE: Requires completion of 15-credit hours. Enroll for a master's degree at KSU with one of twelve partnering master's degree programs. You complete six hours of specific master's level courses from your degree program plus nine hours of ILEC courses.

OPTION #1B: MODIFIED PARTNER CERTIFICATE: For those students who have already completed one of the twelve partnering KSU master's programs and want to add the graduate certificate in leadership and ethics to their official transcript. Those students will complete 15 credit hours of ILEC designated courses.

OPTION #2: THE EXCLUSIVE CERTIFICATE: For individuals who have completed a bachelor's degree and are not currently enrolled in a master's program. Complete 15 credit hours of ILEC Leadership & Ethics courses. Apply through the KSU Graduate School for admission to this certificate program and enroll directly into ILEC classes.

USE ILEC COURSES AS ELECTIVES:

Current graduate students can consider Siegel Institute courses to satisfy elective requirements or to fulfill needed extra credit hours in order to qualify for financial aid.

GCLE Spotlight: Meet Karen Burton

Graduate Certificate in Leadership and Ethics Participant

What I most enjoyed about the course work was the critical thinking facilitated by the diversity of perspectives during the discussions about theoretical ethical dilemmas. What seemed obvious as a correct path to one student often struck another as problematic, while both usually had very legitimate points. Such differences of perspective challenged me to think about my own in the theoretical sense as well as in real-world applications, especially in my interactions at work in a corporate environment. As a Masters in American Studies candidate, I also enjoyed that the curriculum considered current events in Afghanistan and South Africa, political debates about healthcare or environmental law, and even pop-culture artifacts like best-selling fictional and biographical literature.

Applying ethical decision-making and leadership models to real-world situations took my studies from not only asking who have we been and who are we now, but also to the next level where I began to consider who can we become and what role will I play in getting there? With career aspirations in the fields of education and public outreach, I have no doubt that the Certificate will continue to prove itself a valuable learning experience.

THE SIEGEL INSTITUTE'S ETHICS TRAINING CERTIFICATE

The Siegel Institute's Ethics Training Certificate is a three-to-five module seminar which aims to identify and discuss common ethical challenges students face related to their research or lab work. The seminar also prepares students to deal with emerging ethical issues in their respective fields and will address such topics as authorship, mentorship, honesty, and responsibilities to colleagues.

The seminar will consist of short lectures, online and face-to-face, which will introduce students to key concepts and issues in research ethics, followed by case studies and faculty-led discussions. All modules will be highly interactive with an emphasis on discussion, small group work, and problem solving. Students completing the seminar will receive a Certificate of Completion of the ethics training and recommended to work with faculty on federal grants.

FALL SEMESTER TRAINING DATES: (5:45 p.m. - 7:15 p.m. each session)

- MODULE ONE - 9/6/2011 - Honesty, Integrity, and Responsibility
- MODULE TWO - 9/13/2011 - Misconduct and Conflicts of Interest
- MODULE THREE - 9/20/2011 - Making Ethical Decisions
- MODULE FOUR - 9/27/2011 - In-Depth Case Study: Whistle Blowing
- MODULE FIVE - 10/4/2011 - In-Depth Case Study: Hyatt Regency Hotel Catwalk Collapse
